Self-drive routes

Bellarine Tourist Routes

Melbourne to Campbell Point House, Geelong. - 75 km, about an hour

Break clear of the city traffic and head west to Werribee, located on Melbourne's outskirts. Check out the elephants and rhinos at Werribee Open Range Zoo and enjoy a fancy cuppa at the Mansion at Werribee Park, a grand building built by the Chirside family in the 1870s.

Hit the tracks and trails of the You Yangs on foot or on two wheels and discover why it's a mountain biking hotspot for riders across Victoria, or stop off at the Brisbane Ranges National Park for a picnic lunch amid the wildflowers.

Pause to pick up unique gifts at the vintage market precinct in North Geelong and then cruise into Victoria's largest regional city, located on calm Corio Bay. The city has fabulous waterfront eateries, landscaped gardens and walking paths. Have a coffee at a waterfront restaurant and wander past the famous bollard characters along the foreshore, or visit the multi award-winning National Wool Museum.

Campbell Point House to Queenscliff - 22 km, about 25 minutes

The route continues to Queenscliff through wine country. Scotchmans Hill and Bellarine Estate both have excellent cellar doors, while Jack Rabbit vineyard boasts the best views across the bay. Prefer cider? Stop on the highway for a cold one at the Flying Brick Cider Co. Take a detour to Portarlington for a lunch at The Little Mussel Cafe or tuck into fresh mussels bought from Advance Mussel Supply or at the pier then barbecued on the shore.

Queenscliff is an historic bay-side town well known for its Victorian-era buildings, galleries and excellent restaurants. Learn about 19th-century military history at the historic Fort Queenscliff or stories of the early mariners and fishermen at the Maritime Museum. For the more adventurous, dive to discover coral, sponges and shipwrecks around the bay entrance, charter a boat and swim with dolphins or take a fishing cruise.

Queenscliff to Point Lonsdale - 5 km, about 10 minutes

Continue your journey south to the village of Point Lonsdale overlooking The Rip – the notorious entrance to Port Phillip Bay. Make the journey last a little longer by walking (45 mins) or cycling (15 mins) from town to town. Breathe in the fresh sea air, watch the boats out in the bay and take in the dramatic views from Rip View Lookout.

Point Lonsdale to Barwon Heads - 15 km, about 20 minutes

Sip on a morning brew in At The Heads, a restaurant built in the old cold stores along the jetty. Follow it up with a wander down main street. Check out the boutiques and country cafes that have popped up in recent years and enjoy a bit of people watching during the busy summer months.

Play a round of golf at one of Victoria's most scenic golf courses with outstanding ocean views, fish the calm estuary waters or just amble along kilometres of sandy beaches before making your trip back to Melbourne.

It will then be a short 15min drive back to Campbell Point House

Campbell Point House to 12 Apostles/ Loch Ard Gorge

Day trip – suggested self drive sights

Stage 1

Campbell Point House to Lorne (75km)

Bells Beach

Ocean and beach views from lookout platforms at Bells Beach Surfing Reserve. Access from Torquay via Bells Boulevard, or the Great Ocean Road.

Point Addis

Impressive ocean, beach and sandstone cliff views toward Bells Beach and Anglesea. Access from Point Addis Road, off the Great Ocean Road, between Torquay and Anglesea.

Anglesea

Breathtaking coastal views from elevated memorial lookout. Access from the Great Ocean Road via Harvey Street.

Aireys Inlet

Drive or walk up to Split Point lighthouse. Ocean views over Eagle and Table rocks. There is another lookout at the end of Boundary Road, off the Great Ocean Road.

Cinema Point

Spectacular views back towards Eastern View, Fairhaven and Aireys Inlet from one of the Great Ocean Road's highest vantage points. There is a signposted turn off about 8 kilometres west of Aireys Inlet.

Lorne

Teddy's Lookout is one of the best along the Great Ocean Road. It provides stunning vistas from its platform high above the coast where the St George River empties into a small cove. Access off the Great Ocean Road at the end of George Street, then take a short walk through the bush from the car park.

Stage 2

Lorne to Apollo Bay (47km)

Mt Defiance

Panoramic ocean views toward Artillery Rocks. Turn off between Lorne and Wye River.

Cape Patton Lookout

Spectacular views east towards Apollo Bay and Skenes Creek. Access from the Great Ocean Road, east of Apollo Bay

Marriners

Marriners lookout is a fairly steep 5-minute walk from the car park, but it's well worth the effort for its panoramic views of Apollo Bay and far out to sea. Drive a few minutes north from Apollo Bay along the Great Ocean Road, and turn into Marriners Lookout Road.

Stage 3

Apollo Bay to Loch Ard Gorge (91km)

Cape Otway Lightstation

The lighthouse stands 91 metres above the ocean and offers spectacular views of the rugged Otway coast. Located 20 minutes west of Apollo Bay. Entry fee applies.

The Gable

Magnificent views to Moonlight Head. Take a short walk to the lookout platform, which seems to hang off the top of the cliff 70 metres above the waves. Turn off onto Moonlight Head Road after Wattle Hill.

12 Apostles

From the car park, the viewing platform is a 5-minute walk under the Great Ocean Road and out to the coastline. Off the Great Ocean Road east of Port Campbell, there are also staircases to the beach at nearby Gibson Steps and Loch Ard Gorge.

Return trip to Campbell Point House 165km via direct route.
